Justice Resource Directory - This is a collection of resources for people in and out of prison organized by theme. We are appreciative to everyone who has supported and informed this work. We also much appreciate the people in prison who write us with their letters and stories to give us a better idea of their struggles and challenges and what resources to include in this directory. If there are any additions or modifications, please contact justiceexchange@ubishops.ca. Thank you for helping us learn, grow, and create. Keep on keep'n on...

Defund the Police: No Address; No Phone – In response to the ongoing violence and harassment in our communities around the world, this site offers several contact tools to help you call upon your local representatives to defund the police with just a few clicks. This way you have more time to take action in other meaningful ways. <https://www.defund.ca>

Demand Prisons Change: No Address; No Phone – Félicitations pour avoir été élu. Nous vous écrivons en tant que personnes concernées pour le bien-être et la dignité des prisonniers au Canada. Certains d'entre nous sont actuellement incarcérés, certains d'entre nous ne le sont pas. Pendant de nombreuses années, les droits établis par la Charte canadienne des droits et libertés n'ont pas été respectés dans les prisons canadiennes.. <https://demandprisonschange.wordpress.com/about/>

End the Prison Industrial Complex: Suite #409 - 427 Princess St, Kingston ON K7L 5S9; No Phone – A prison abolition group based in Kingston, Ontario. EPIC does not believe that we need the Prison Industrial Complex (PIC) to keep us safe, or that reforms can make the PIC just or effective. <http://epic.noblogs.org>

Halifax Prisoner Solidarity: PO Box 33129, Halifax NS B3L 4T6; No Phone – We are dedicated to supporting political prisoners, with the understanding that all prisoners are political, and work towards a world where prisons do not exist. Please stay tuned for updates and campaigns. Any donations will go towards supporting political and anarchist prisoners and defendants, prioritizing those in the Maritimes. <https://halifaxprisonersolidarity.noblogs.org/contact/>

Arts

Canartscene: No Address; No Phone – A nonprofit visual arts portal with the mission of promoting artists and their organizations. <http://www.canartscene.com/canartscene.html>

Godberg: No Address; No Phone – Our mission is to help artists, creators and craftspeople achieve their creative goals and connect with their potential audience. To do this we use innovative, art based, fund-raising techniques to generate revenue. This revenue allows us to micro-finance art projects, award residencies and offer mentorships. This means we are always in the process of funding the work of artists with capital donated to GODBERD by the artist's own community. Nothing is purchased through GODBERD, and everything is donated. GODBERD operates an economy of benevolence, and hopes to switch the idea of “purchase and own” for that of “donate and share” in creating a culture of mutual care. <https://godberd.com/>

Prisoners’ Justice Film Festival: No Address; No Phone – Interested in raising awareness and opposed to the expansion of the Prison Industrial Complex (PIC). The PJFF goal is to bring people together through a yearly film festival to start a dialogue about the prison industrial complex, multi-issue movement building, alternative forms of justice and ways in which they can start a vibrant anti-PIC movement in London, Ontario. <http://www.prisonersjusticefilmfestival.ca>
